We take great pleasure in offering the fifth volume of 'Heritage', the Peer reviewed academic journal of Bethune College, Kolkata, for the perusal of our esteemed readers. As the name suggests, this journal represents an attempt to hold up the prestigious and long historical tradition of our college as well as of the nation at large. With contributions ranging from the importance of Tagore and Gandhi as social thinkers and the notion of duty as propounded by Kant, to appreciation of specific literary texts, this multidisciplinary journal contains twenty six articles on topics ranging from Humanities, Social sciences, and the Sciences.

This volume brings together research from faculty members of Bethune College and other colleges and universities in West Bengal and other states, as well as research scholars and post-graduate students. This highlights the importance of active research while being engaged in everyday teaching and evaluation.
